

10.

Victims Rights

1. The right to be respected and treated nice.
2. The right to know when you will have to go to trials and hearings.
3. The right to have a separate waiting area away from the person who committed the crime.
4. The right to be informed of services that can help you and your family.
5. The right to have the things that were stolen from you, returned.
6. The right to request that the person (s) who took your belongings, pay you for them.
7. The right to write or tell the judge about how things have changed for you since the crime occurred.
8. The right to be protected if the person who committed the crime or their friends or family bother you again.
9. The right to not have your name and address given to the person (s) who committed the crime.
10. The right to clearly know who is representing the person who committed the crime.